

Should Congress Repeal the McCarran-Ferguson Act?
Friday, November 12, 2010

Welcome

I. Glenn Cohen, Harvard Law School, Faculty co-Director, Petrie-Flom Center

Health care insurance market competition: an empirical study

Presenter:

Subramaniam Ramanarayanan, UCLA Anderson School of Management

Commenter:

Kathy Zeiler, Georgetown University Law Center

Health care insurance market concentration and state antitrust enforcement

Presenter:

David Balto, Center for American Progress

Commenter:

Deborah Haas-Wilson, Smith College Department of Economics

The history of the McCarran-Ferguson Act and its role in enforcement

Presenter:

Scott Harrington, The Wharton School

Commenter:

Keith Hylton, Boston University School of Law

How better interpretation of the McCarran Act could eliminate many problems

Presenter:

Einer Elhauge, Harvard Law School

Commenter:

Steve Salop, Georgetown University Law Center

The industry's view

Presenter:

Joseph Miller, General Counsel for America's Health Insurance Plans

Commenter:

Michael Meurer, Boston University School of Law

General Discussion

Moderator:

Kathy Zeiler, Georgetown University Law Center

First Commenter:

Steve Weiner, Partner , Mintz, Levin, Cohn, Ferris, Glovsky & Popeo

For further information, please contact petrie-flom@law.harvard.edu