

MLSA

MULTIRACIAL LAW STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

Dear 1Ls:

Welcome to Harvard Law School!

MLSA is a relatively new organization at Harvard and the only organization of its type at any law school across the country. MLSA was created to foster a community for students of mixed race, heritage, and culture, as well as students in mixed relationships and students of cross-cultural adoption.

MLSA will act as a social network and support system throughout your 1L year. We'll have happy hours and dinners as well as panels on academic issues and navigating the job hunt. In addition, we will be inviting speakers including, Prof. Randall Kennedy, who will lead a discussion on his book, Interracial Intimacies, and Prof. Elizabeth Bartholet, who will speak on cross-cultural adoption. We also look forward to hearing your ideas!

If you have any questions about MLSA or law school in general, please don't hesitate to ask. To join the MLSA listserve and hear about upcoming events, send us an email at mlsa@law.harvard.edu.

Enjoy the rest of the summer and we look forward to meeting you all in September!

Sincerely,

MLSA
