

Subject: [SALDF] Conference, T-Shirt Design Contest, Cruelty Campaigns
From: SALDF <saldf@law.harvard.edu>
Date: 12/11/2006 9:15 AM

Hi Everyone,

Several announcements before the break:

1. Register for the Future of Animal Law Conference
2. 2007 SALDF T-Shirt Design Contest
3. Best of Luck to Kevin, Victoria, and Ken!
4. Campaign for Harvard to Switch to Cage-Free Eggs
5. Soy Milk in Pound Hall

As usual, visit the SALDF website (<http://www.law.harvard.edu/students/orgs/saldf/>) for updated outside events and legal internship opportunities.

Have a wonderful holiday season!

* * * * *

1. Register for the Future of Animal Law Conference

This spring at Harvard Law School, the top minds in the field of animal law will present and discuss cutting-edge legal strategies to protect the lives and advance the interests of animals. An exciting line-up of panelists, including keynote speakers Ben Stein and Jeremy Rifkin, will explore topics such as: Animal Hoarding; Creating a Federal Animal Protection Agency; Animal Law Around the World; Opportunities in Animal Law; and much more! To find out more about the conference and to register, please visit <http://www.animallawconference.com/>. (The conference is March 30 - April 1.) SALDF will cover the registration fees of a limited number of HLS students -- please email saldf@law.harvard.edu. (If you have already emailed SALDF, keep an eye out in the next couple days for an email explaining how to register.)

* * * * *

2. T-Shirt Design Contest

Need an excuse to take a break from studying? Design the 2007 SALDF t-shirt! Submit as many designs as you would like to saldf@law.harvard.edu by January 31. If your design wins you'll get a free shirt!

* * * * *

3. National Animal Advocacy Competitions

Best of luck to HLS students Victoria Schwartz and Ken Stalter who have entered the Moot Court Competition and Kevin VanLandingham who has entered the Closing Argument Competition! If you are interested in competing, please see <http://www.lclark.edu/org/ncal/mootcourt.html> for more information. SALDF will cover the registration fee! (The last day to register is December 29.)

* * * * *

4. Campaign Harvard to Switch to Cage-Free Eggs

A GSE student is starting a campaign with the Humane Society to get Harvard to switch to cage-free eggs. Over 100 universities have switched to cage-free, including Dartmouth, Yale, Princeton, and Georgetown. She will be meeting with the Director of Food Services in the next few weeks -- if you would like to get involved or attend the meeting, please email AnnaLise Hoopes at hoopesan@gse.harvard.edu.

* * * * *

5. Soy Milk in Pound Hall

LT is interested in other students' experiences with soy milk in Pound Hall (whether it is there enough, refilled, etc.). Please email her at lciccio@gmail.com (see also <http://hlsaldf.pbwiki.com/>).

For more information on SALDF, including information on outside events and legal internships, please visit <http://www.law.harvard.edu/students/orgs/saldf/>

To unsubscribe, send this message to majordomo@lists.law.harvard.edu:
unsubscribe saldf your@email.address