1. SALDF T-Shirts

Just in time for spring, our bright new SALDF t-shirts are ready! Let us know what size you'd like, and we'll drop one off in your Harkbox, while supplies last!!

2. Trip to Maple Farm Sanctuary

Take some time out from studying and visit a farm animal sanctuary! Maple Farm Animal Sanctuary used to be an actual farm, but one day the owners decided to turn their lives around and stop using animals for food. Instead, they created a sanctuary for farm animals who have been neglected or abused. At the sanctuary, the animals can live out their lives in peace and happiness. SALDF is going to take a tour, feed the animals, and help out for a while on April 22. Get out of the library! Come spend an afternoon outside in some spring weather! Transportation will be arranged for you. We'll also be bringing apples and carrots to feed the animals. If you would like to join us on the visit, please contact Marissa at mdirks@law.harvard.edu to RSVP or get more details.

3. Admitted Students Reception

Sunday, April 15 (5 PM - 6:30 PM in Ropes Gray), SALDF will have a table at the Admitted Students Reception. Please come out and chat with prospective students on the wonder of all things HLS and SALDF! (Please shoot saldf@law.harvard.edu a quick email to let us know when to expect you!)

4. Photographs from the Future of Animal Law Conference

Thanks to all who made the Future of Animal Law Conference a huge success! We had over three hundred attendees (and a waiting list!). To view photos of the conference, please visit <http://www.law.harvard.edu/students/orgs/saldf/FAL07.html>. Later this month we'll have a DVD of the event you can borrow if you were not able to attend!

5. Organizational Dinner

A quick reminder that SALDF will be hosting a dinner next Tuesday, April 10th at 7 PM. It will be an opportunity to review SALDF's activities this year and do "collective brainstorming" for next year! If you're interested in being more involved next year, even if you weren't able to participate this year, please come out for a free dinner, and good company, in Harvard Square. If you have not already RSVP'd, please do so as soon as possible to saldf@law.harvard.edu.
